Dear Mr. Rowen:

I am an economist. I teach a course on the Soviet economy and pursue research on the Soviet industrial productivity.

According to a New York Times article [redacted] dated January 9, you wrote a report on the Soviet economy and presented it to the Joint Economic Committee on December 1, 1982.

STAT

[redacted] article said that your report was the second of the series of the CIA study on the Soviet economy and focused on the degree of the Soviet dependence upon the trade with and the technology transfer from the West.

STAT

I have read with great interest and benefit the first of the CIA study prepared for the Joint Economic Committee of the 97 Congress (2nd Session) entitled USSR: Measures of Economic Growth and Development, 1950-1980. So far I have been unable, however, to locate the second study mentioned in the New York Times article.

I would greatly appreciate it if you would let me know the title and the government document number of this study so that I can order it to the GPO.

Sincerely,

STAT
